"Letters to Lovers"

WINONA WILCOX

"LOVE is never the same. 'Nor are the problems of love ever the same.'"

So says Winona Wilcox, celebrated author of "Confessions of a Bride" who thru newspaper columns and by personal letter has answered the problems presented by 100,000 or more lovers.

Now the most interesting of these letters she has sifted and is presenting and discussing in a series of articles written for The Lima News.

"LETTERS TO LOVERS"

You'll be thoroughly interested in today's article herewith.

REVELATIONS ABOUT LOVE

"I WANT to love—I want to be loved—I want to marry!" Thus wails one of the many thousands of girls who have made me their confidante.

To head these letters to lovers, I quote this plaint because it voices the supreme and the universal ache of the woman-heart.

"I want my babies," continues this naive confession, "and I want my own home."

"Lately I heard my little sister's girl friend refer to me as 'the old maid'! It hurt, horribly! That night, I cried myself to sleep because what the flapper said was true! And I don't want to be a spinster!"

"I have dreamed, as all girls do, and I am afraid to wake up. 'Give me an anodyne and let me dream again.'"

"Or tell me to go forth and seek my mate—as my brother does!"—V. H.

Cut off from an opportunity to meet a fitting mate, hundreds of attractive and capable girls have thus defiantly confessed to weeping over their normal need.

And so—what's to be done? Nothing at all in the old way of denial, prudery, sacrifice of self, and false consolation.

But much, perhaps, in the new way, as outlined by scientists whose business it is to trace the relationship between mind, body and soul.

Lately men who dissect human emotions have made some astounding revelations about the effect upon our feelings and conduct of old instincts, primitive taboos, accumulated traditions and inherited customs.

They have explained why we love, why we can't help loving even when common sense has to be sacrificed, why we suffer in health, why we fail in business from starved, thwarted, neglected, ignored as well as from over-indulged or imagined affection.

It is the purpose of these letters to condense this modern thought for lovers.

DARINGLY unconventional but frankly modern runs another letter:

"I scorn the rouged and ruffled and sophisticated husband hunters whom I know; nevertheless, I envy them," writes IMMURED MAID. "I am tied to an invalid mother. I see only the ice-man, the grocer's boy, the post-man, the doctor and old men, my father's friends."

"Each day I slip closer to the abyss of starved spinsterhood in middle life and a lonely old age. Wouldn't it be wise for me to go forth and select a life companion?"

"No!" The customary answer remains the scientific answer. In 1921 opinion, men and women have equal rights to love and its expression. In fact, the cave-man's instinct still rules all goings on.

The cave-man pursued his bride and captured her. Today man abhors the female of the species who usurps his privilege of doing the wooing.

ARBUCKLE MAY BE GRANTED BAIL

Will Be Liberated If Tried On Manslaughter Charge.

DECISION EXPECTED TODAY

District Attorney Promises Vigorous Prosecution.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. — (By Associated Press.) — Decision to try Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, the film comedian, on a charge of murder or manslaughter, in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, film actress, is expected to be made by District Attorney Matthew Brady today.

Arbuckle has two separate charges pending against him. In one, a complaint sworn to in police court by Mrs. B. M. Delmont, friend of Miss Rappe, Arbuckle is charged with murder. Following this charge last Tuesday night, the grand jury indicted him for manslaughter and the true bill is to be returned before Superior Judge E. P. Shortell, some time today.

ATTORNEYS TO CONFER

District Attorney Brady announced that he would confer with his assistants to determine on which of the two charges he would bring Arbuckle to trial. It was pointed out by Brady that should it be decided to try the film star on the charge of manslaughter and the murder charge be dismissed, Arbuckle would be admitted to bail. Under the California law a person charged with murder cannot obtain bail.

The coroner's inquest into the death of Miss Rappe was the most important feature of the Arbuckle case yesterday. The coroner's jury returned a charge of manslaughter. Telegrams were received by District Attorney Brady yesterday, asking him to prosecute the case vigorously. Arbuckle, too, received telegrams, eighteen of them, the contents of which were not made public. The telegrams to Arbuckle were sent in care of the chief of police.

WILL PESH CASE

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. — (By Associated Press.) — District Attorney Matthew Brady last night dispatched a telegram assuring Mayor L. C. Hodgson, mayor of St. Paul, that he planned to prosecute the case against Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, "most vigorously."

Brady's telegram, in answer to one from Mayor Hodgson, arguing him to "fight this case to a finish," follows:

"Your telegram received. Assure you and good people of St. Paul that in spite of Arbuckle's money and influence, the case will be prosecuted most vigorously. Depend upon me to do my full duty as district attorney to thwart any attempt to defeat justice."

NEW CHARGE THREATENED

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. — (By Associated Press.) — Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle will be prosecuted as a violator of the Volstead prohibition enforcement act if evidence now being gathered shows that he transported as much as "one drop of intoxicating liquor" from Los Angeles to San Francisco for his party on Labor Day, Robert L. McCormack, special assistant to the United States attorney-general, announced here today. McCormack announced that he had sent Prohibition Director E. Forrest Mitchell to Los Angeles to investigate.

Federal authorities are conducting an investigation into the source of the liquor supply alleged to have been used at Arbuckle's suite. Two empty whiskey bottles are alleged by authorities to have been recovered from a waste basket in the Arbuckle rooms.

The telegram from Mayor L. G. Hodgson of St. Paul, which thanked Brady for his announced intentions to fight for or against the case with Brady today, it continued:

"Latest reports indicate Arbuckle money is overcoming state testimony. Do not falter. Fight this to a finish. If Arbuckle is not punished the moving picture business is done, for decent people are tired of the eccentricities of genius. Go the limit and win praise of all good people."

A telegram from Henry Lehrman, who is in New York, fiancé of Miss Rappe, to Brady also was made public. It said:

"For the sake of God and justice to men, don't let justice be cheated. It brought tears of rage to my eyes when I read your speech that influence and wealth are brought into play to bar justice. I cried because you told the truth in spite of the pressure of gold to stifle it."

"You're convinced from acts and from knowing him that Arbuckle killed Virginia Rappe as a result of his attack."

"Now don't let them cheat justice—for God's sake don't."

WHISKEY STOLEN

DAYTON.—C. F. Cohan, manufacturer of a brand of tobacco sauce, complained to the police that some one had entered his place of business and stolen seven barrels of whiskey, used in the manufacture of the hotstuff. Detectives were immediately assigned to the case and concluded it was an inside job.

NO HEARING ON LIMA GAS RATE QUESTION UNTIL LATE OCTOBER

There will be no hearing called before the public utilities commission at Columbus on the Lima gas rate controversy until late in October, members of the commission informed Mayor Burkhardt, who was in the state capital, Wednesday. The commission, he was told, has not completed its examination of the valuation reports made by their engineers, regarding the Lima company's property. When this is done the city will have an opportunity of going over the figures and making a protest if desired.

Secretary Baird of the commission stated to Mayor Burkhardt that the hearing will be held as speedily as possible, the mayor said.

MRS. EVA KABER ON HUNGER STRIKE

Refuses to Eat Since Discovery of Escape Plot.

IN SOLITARY CONFINEMENT

Daughter's Cell in Cleveland Jail Now Guarded.

MARYSVILLE, Ohio. — (By United Press.) — Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber, Cleveland murderess, sulked and starved in solitary confinement in the women's reformatory here today, as protest against punishment for plotting to escape.

She refused all food offered her and had eaten nothing today. "So long as she persists in her present attitude, she will be kept in solitary confinement," Mrs. Louise Mittendorf, superintendent of the reformatory, said.

"If necessary, I'll keep her there forever. In her present attitude, it would not be safe to release her from solitary."

Mrs. Kaber's attitude was described by the superintendent as "sullen, stolid silence."

Unusual precautions were taken to prevent any attempt being carried out to free Mrs. Kaber.

The alleged plot of Mrs. Kaber for a jail delivery contemplated murder of the superintendent and her husband and bribery of attaches of the institutions, Mrs. Mittendorf said.

GIRL'S CELL GUARDED

CLEVELAND. — (By United Press.) — Extra precautions were taken here today to guard the cell of Miss Marian McArdle, awaiting trial for murder, as a result of the discovery of the plot to free the girl's mother, Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber, from the women's reformatory at Marysville, Ohio.

Officials feared that Miss McArdle might also hatch a plot to escape with the same Cleveland and New York gangsters that negotiated with her mother. A letter from the girl to her mother gave the latter's escape plans away.

PROSPERITY SEEN BY SANTA

Big Stocks Laid in for Christmas Trade.

NEW YORK. — (By United Press.) — Santa Claus is preparing for Christmas on a prosperity basis.

A canvass of the old gentleman's personal representatives in this country today revealed that they are counting on one of the biggest holiday distribution gifts in years.

Retailers in all sections, it was said, have begun to place orders for the Christmas trade "on a most hopeful scale," and this applies to dry goods, furniture, jewelry, toys and all other forms of gifts.

This situation was shown thru a composite of information thru jobbers, wholesalers and manufacturers, its significance was emphasized by a statement by a buyer for a big New York department store who said:

"Retailers are in pretty close touch with the buying power of the country, which in the last analysis, represents prosperity or lack of it."

"If they were not pretty sure that the public generally was going to be in a position to serve Christmas in the usual manner, you may depend on it their buying power would reflect it. All indications are that the holiday trade, as a whole, will be much larger than last year."

WHISKEY STILL BLOWS UP; OWNER IS KILLED

NEW ORLEANS, La.—Two are dead and two others seriously burned today, as the result of the explosion of a whiskey still.

Too much pressure in the copper tank of the still, said to have been in operation in the barn of John Toney, 36, was said by police to have caused the explosion.

Toney died early today. Mrs. Toney and two-year-old Edward Toney were severely burned, and Anthony McCallen, 17, who went to the aid of the Toney family, received burns which caused his death.

MEMBER OF AUTO PARTY SLAIN

Akron Sportsman, on Way From Cleveland, Shot to Death.

FOUR COMPANIONS ARE HELD

Husband of Woman on Trip is Questioned.

AKRON. — (By Associated Press.) — Harry Sinclair, 40, Akron sportsman, was shot to death early today while returning from Cleveland with two women and another man in an automobile. The shots were fired from another car which had been following the Sinclair machine.

Mrs. Lotta Fridde, Miss Louise Fridde, her sister-in-law, and Russell Smethers, who were in the car with Sinclair, are being held as material witnesses.

Marshall Fridde, husband of Lotta Fridde, was being closely questioned by police. He was found at home in company with his wife's sister, police say, when detectives sought him for the purpose of questioning.

GENERAL STRIKE CONSIDERED

Rail Men To Decide Question At Chicago Meetings.

CHICAGO. — (By Associated Press.) — Decision as to whether the nation will face a general railroad strike may result from two important meetings to be held here next week.

On Sunday the representatives of 500,000 railroad shippers will meet to determine what action to take in regard to the wage cut and changes in working rules, effective July 1. A country-wide ballot taken some time ago is said to have resulted overwhelmingly in favor of a strike.

The result of the vote will be made known at the meeting, over which E. M. Jewell, president of the railway employers department of the American Federation of Labor, will preside.

TO ANNOUNCE VOTE

On September 22, the heads of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen, Switchmen's Union of America and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen will meet here to announce the result of a ballot now being taken in these organizations.

Unofficial reports from some of the organizations indicate a large majority of the members favor strike. It is reported that the unions are not so vitally interested in wage reductions, but are prepared to wage a bitter battle against changes in rules, reducing the pay for overtime work.

Units of some of the organizations recently cautioned members to conserve their resources in preparation for a "showdown."

BEER IS DEMANDED

Fire Fighters' Convention Asks Dry Law Modification.

COLUMBUS. — (By Associated Press.) — Modification of the Volstead law to permit manufacture and sale of beer and light wines is asked in a resolution adopted by the International Association of Fire Fighters in convention here.

The resolution, which caused much debate, was presented by William E. Brown, of Milwaukee.

Another resolution addressed to President Harding and Attorney General Daugherty, asks for the release of political prisoners, the quashing of all cases still pending under the espionage act and full restoration of free speech, free press and peaceable assembly.

The convention also is considering a proposal to remove the national headquarters from Washington to Chicago. Delegates from Vancouver are making a spirited campaign for next year's convention.

MOVIES and MORALS CAN A GIRL BE GOOD AND SUCCEED?

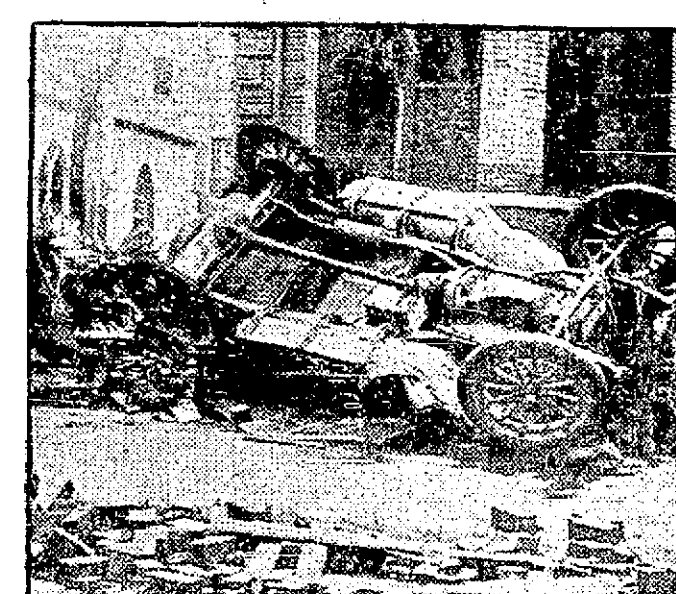

MOVIES and MORALS! The whole country is talking about them, following the startling revelations of the Arbuckle case. "Must a girl pay a price for success on the screen?" people ask.

Alice Calhoun in five years has risen from a $5-a-day extra to a $1000-a-week star. She is starring in eight feature films being produced by Vitaphone.

THE SAN ANTONIO FLOOD

Looting followed the flood in San Antonio, which wrought havoc to life and property, but soldiers quickly stopped the looters. A soldier's bullet killed a looter on the spot where the soldier stands in this picture.

Torrents of water, tearing thru the streets of San Antonio, swept all before them, as they destroyed scores of lives and millions of dollars worth of property. This auto was carried along for blocks, as it was a bit of wood, and left as you see it.

POLITICAL GUARANTEES DEMANDED BY SPAIN

BERNE, Switzerland. — The Spanish government is demanding political and financial guarantees before permitting former Emperor Charles of Austria to take up a residence in Spain, as he has twice petitioned the Madrid government to be allowed to do.

Spain especially demands restrictions on the household expenses of the ex-emperor which are estimated to amount annually to 1,200,000 Swiss francs. This expenditure is caused by his large suite of eighty persons, which the Spanish government desires reduced considerably.

$525,000,000 PUT IN U. S. CHEST

Income and Profit Taxes Are Being Paid Today.

WASHINGTON. — (By United Press.) — Taxpayers today were handing $525,000,000 over to the government—the third installment of their income and profit taxes.

Secretary Mellon is counting on today's payments to pull the treasury out of a hole. The last two months have shown a current deficit of $116,000,000.

One of Mellon's first acts today was to arrange for the refunding of $525,000,000 in treasury certificates of indebtedness. Then he set aside $245,000,000 for payment of semi-annual interest on the third Liberty loan. Public debt expenditures on similar operations next will be even larger and bring the total up to about $1,100,000,000.

Meanwhile, the new tax bill was almost ready to be turned over to the experts who will draft it into the form in which it will be reported to the senate next week by the finance committee.

Inheritance taxes and some minor administrative changes are all that remain to be decided on by the committee.

Following the completion of the committee's bill brief consideration will be given Senator Smoot's sales tax plan. Senator Calder's proposal for 2.75 per cent a $5 per barrel tax on it, and other proposed amendments.

CONFESSES CRIME TO MOTHER

Harvey W. Church Repeats Details of Double Murder.

CHICAGO. — (By Associated Press.) — Harvey W. Church, confessed slayer of Bernard Daugherty and Carl Ausmus, automobile salesman, early today was brought face to face with his mother for the first time since his arrest, and in her presence in the state attorney's office, he repeated the details of the two crimes.

He reverted largely to the first of his many confessions and indicated, officials declared, that he planned and executed the murders without assistance.

Neither Clarence Wilder, nor Milton Walker, named by Church as accomplices, officials said they had been convinced, had any part whatever in the crimes, and they also expressed doubt whether Leon Parks assisted Church, despite his detailed confession.

Officials pointed out that Parks stoutly maintained his innocence until confronted by Church, who then questioned Parks by the investigators.

Mrs. Church sat apparently unmoved today thruout her son's recital of the details of the murders. At the close of his story, she remarked:

"I cannot understand why Harvey buried the man (Carl Ausmus) in the garage. There is a vacant lot next door where all the dead cats and dogs in the neighborhood are buried. Why didn't he bury him there? Then they never would have found him."

2 BANDITS KILLED

Shot in Attempt to Hold Up Train in Texas.

FORT WORTH, Texas. — (By Associated Press.) — Two would-be bandits were shot and killed late last night by federal agents and railroad detectives when they attempted to hold up Texas and Pacific passenger train number eleven, ten miles west of Fort Worth. A tip received by federal officers caused placing of heavy guards on the train.

One of the men killed, it is reported, formerly was employed by the Texas and Pacific as an engineer. He is said to have boarded the train at Fort Worth and the other, a former brakeman of the road, got on when the train was 13 miles out.

O. E. CARLSON ELECTED

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — Oscar E. Carlson, of the department of Illinois, was selected national commander-in-chief of the United Spanish War Veterans on the ninth ballot, taken early today. The balloting began last night and continued until 2 a. m. The convention will adjourn late today.

NEGROES FLEEING DIXIE TOWN

Whites and Blacks Clash in Tennessee Village.

GUARDS PATROL STREETS

Battle Is Started From Quarrel Over Spring.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. — (By Associated Press.) — Negro families of Mont Lake, a mining village near here, were fleeing from their homes today pursued by the white residents of the village, following the shooting of four white children, Edna Barnett and her three sisters, last night.

Jewel Clipper, a negro girl, is said to have fired a shotgun at the white children while they were gathered at a spring over which both races have claimed right of precedence.

A posse of deputy sheriffs from this city arrived in Mont Lake last evening and found armed guards patrolling the village.

SEVERAL ARRESTED

The Clipper girl, her parents and a brother are under arrest. Miss Barnett is in a hospital here and is said to be in a precarious condition.

More than a hundred armed miners drove the negroes from their homes the reports said.

According to authorities here, both sides have frequently been driven from the spring by the opposing race and the victor would then fill the water to prevent the others from using it.

CABINS FOUND EMPTY

About three coal miners with their families who made up the negro population fled when the trouble started, leaving their possessions behind in their cabins and declared their intention of never returning.

When a sheriff's posse from Chattanooga arrived they found all the negro cabins empty except that of the Clipper girl, who was barricaded with doors and surrounded by a mob of about 150 persons, armed with all sorts of weapons. The negroes were arrested and placed in jail for their own protection. Local authorities are continuing the investigation today and arrests of a number of white men involved in the trouble was expected.

RACE PEACE SOUGHT

CHICAGO. — (By Associated Press.) — An organization to promote harmony and good feeling between all classes, races and religion in America was announced in the process of formation here with Edward F. Dunne, former governor of Illinois, at its head.

The society will be known as the National Unity Council and its organizers intend ultimately to spread it to every section of the country, according to Mr. Dunne.

One of the prime motives behind the organization, its sponsors said, was to combat the Ku Klux Klan, and organization of the councils, will be pushed particularly where the Klan has obtained a foothold.

IRISH STAND PAT ON PEACE TERMS

Will Treat Only As Sovereign State, DeValera Says.

DUBLIN. — (By Associated Press.) — Eamon De Valera in his reply to Premier Lloyd George, accepted the invitation to the proposed Inverness conference in the terms of the final paragraph of Mr. Lloyd George's last letter, but reaffirmed Ireland's independence as a sovereign state and declares that only as representatives of such have the Irish negotiators any authority.

The text of Mr. De Valera's reply says:

"In this final note we deem it our duty to reaffirm that our position is, and can only be, as we have defined it, thru this correspondence. The principle of government by consent of the governed must be the basis of an agreement which will achieve a final reconciliation."

"We hope that these representatives (the Sinn Fein negotiators) will find it possible to be at Inverness on the date you suggest, September 20."

"Our nation has formerly declared its independence and recognizes itself as a sovereign state. It is only as the representatives of that state and as its chosen guardians that we have authority of powers to act on behalf of our people."

BEST DRESSED WOMAN CALLS ON CHAS. CHAPLIN

LONDON. — Mrs. Henry Smith Wilkinson, who recently dazzled Paris with a display of $5,000,000 worth of clothes and jewels, called upon Charlie Chaplin at his hotel today, while the comedian was asleep after a late night.

"Who is she?" asked Charlie, opening one eye.

"The best dressed woman in England," replied his secretary.

"Well, tell her I'm the most undressed man in England," said Chaplin as he rolled over and fell asleep again.

ELECTRIC LINES TO BOOST FARE

Increase on Inter-State Rates Effective October 1.

LIMA WILL BE AFFECTED

Local Lines Have Not Announced Schedules.

Interstate fares on interurban traction lines in Ohio will be increased 20 per cent, raising from 3 to 5 6-10 cents a mile, October 1, according to Western Ohio officials. Fares one point to another inside the state will not go up, they state. Little explanation for the boost in passenger rates could be made save that it allowed the lines doing interstate business the right to charge the same fares as steam roads.

After October 1, electric lines in Ohio will be charging lower fares than in surrounding states, according to C. O. Sullivan, traffic manager. Nearly all states allow interurbans to charge the same fare as steam lines.

Ohio Electric officials claim to know nothing concerning a change in interstate rates, but said they might receive information soon from Springfield. With the exception of a distance of two blocks in Union City, Ind., the O. E. lines are now wholly within Ohio, the affairs of the old East Wayne division being managed elsewhere.

Both the Ohio Electric and the Western Ohio are engaged in interstate business, over connecting lines. Dixon, a village on the Ohio side of the Hoosier state line, promised to be a popular stop for Fort Wayne passengers after October 1. By buying to that point, travelers from Ohio can ride for 3 cents a mile and then pay 3 6-10 cents per mile to their destination.

Travel officials, however, state that the limited cars may not stop at Dixon in the future.

32 LOST AT SEA

Schooner Majestic Believed Wrecked in Recent Hurricane

BRIDGETOWN, Barbados. — (By Associated Press.) — The schooner Majestic, commanded by Captain Barnes with 32 passengers and crew from Demerara, for Barbados, is believed to have been lost in the hurricane which swept over this region September 8. The British warship Valerian returned here today from an unsuccessful search for the schooner.

Four boatsmen were drowned here during the storm, but only slight damage was caused to the sea front.

STUEVERNAGLE FARM IS BID IN BY FORMER WIFE OF HENRY STEUVERNAGLE

The Steuvernagle farm, located northwest of Cairo, consisting of 80 acres, has been sold to Mrs. Clara M. Steuvernagle, divorced wife of Henry Steuvernagle.

The farm was sold to pay the debts and settle the alimony action. Steuvernagle was divorced from his wife in July. Mrs. Steuvernagle offered the highest bid for the farm and it was sold to her. She paid $1,000 down on the farm and the remainder of the purchase price is to be paid within ten days.

The farm is the one upon which Henry Steuvernagle was reared. Mrs. Steuvernagle and her widowed mother will occupy the place and continue to farm the land.

SETTLEMENT SEEN IN CURB CONTROVERSY IN OAK-ST IMPROVEMENT

Controversy between real estate owners on Oak-st. and the city, concerning the condition of the street curb, will be satisfactorily settled, according to City Engineer Vaughn Miller.

The curb, Miller admitted, is in bad shape and a portion of it ought to be replaced, he said. Miller stated that he had made a thorough inspection of Oak-st. and that it is the intention of the city to require the contractor to fulfill his contract. However, the curb is not going to be replaced as rapidly as the owners represent, Miller stated.

Inspection of the curb, according to residents, shows that when hit with a stick, the concrete breaks. Auditor David L. Rupert announced Thursday that final payment on the street will not be made until the owners are satisfied.

Oak-st. is now being paved by the Willitt Construction company. A group of owners headed by Carl Harsh, merchant police officer, state that they will not pay for the street unless they are satisfied with the curbing.

MASONIC TEMPLE IS DEDICATED

Peterson, Grand master of the grand lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of Ohio. Shawnee commandery was in full regalia.

A parade was held, led by the Boy Scout band of Ottawa. Each of the Masonic organizations presented a pretty appearance in the parade.

The parade was held at 2:30 and was followed by the dedication ceremonies. The 600 Masons in attendance were extended a dinner in the armory, opposite the new Masonic temple, following the dedication.

The after-dinner speaker was the Rev. A. A. Stockdale, Toledo. Dan E. Jones, Toledo, deputy grand commander of the grand commandery, Knights Templar of Ohio, was one of the prominent men in attendance. Other commanderies represented at the dedication included Van Wert, Defiance and Findlay.

APPEAL CASES OF DONOVAN, WILLIS SET FOR MONDAY

Cases of George Donovan and Joe Willis, convicted of highway robbery in common pleas court, will be argued in court of appeals Monday at 9 a. m., on error.

Cases set for arrangements Thursday. Donovan and Willis, said to be members of the McCallum-Townsend bandit gang, were arrested here on May 21, after a running gun battle with police, in which one of their number, Raleigh Townsend, was killed.

They were convicted by a jury of the theft of $2,000 in Liberty bonds and a quantity of money from the farm home of Samuel and Jacob Felt, near Bluffton, the night of May 12.

Both were sentenced to three years in the penitentiary by Judge Becker, after their conviction.

CRISENBERRY IS STILL WORKING

Detective. Ordered Deposed, Remains on the Job.

Altho his dismissal was to have become effective Thursday, Ross Crisenberry, detective in the Lima police department, is on duty.

Safety Director, Dorris, who is responsible for the discharge of the detective, is confined to his home Thursday by illness.

Crisenberry is receiving orders from Chief Roush, who has not been officially notified of the officer's dismissal.

It was rumored in police circles, Wednesday night, that Safety Director Dorris had reconsidered Crisenberry's dismissal and that it was the safer intention to give the detective a hearing Thursday. Crisenberry, however, said he had not been notified that he had been granted a hearing before the safety director.

According to authorities, the charge that Crisenberry unlawfully received an automobile has been dropped, Crisenberry having proven satisfactory possession of the machine.

DEMANDS JUSTICE

Anonymous Writer Threatens Arbuckle With Violence.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. — (By Associated Press.) — Threat of violence against Roscoe C. (Pat) Arbuckle "if justice is not done," in his case, was contained in an anonymous special delivery letter received from Sacramento to day by Harry Kelly, secretary of the county grand jury. The letter was turned over to the police.

Arbuckle had gone to his cellmate, David Bender, who escaped from the Maryland penitentiary. Bender left today in charge of a Maryland official to save the remainder of his term. Bender wished Arbuckle "good luck" and the film comedian reciprocated the sentiment.

Hearing of John Houston, 1107 Forest-ave, charged with burglary of a stolen car at the Ohio Steel foundry and theft of whiskey therefrom, was continued in Justice Rothkin's court, Thursday. Attorneys for Houston announced they were not ready for trial.

Houston was arrested September 11, by Deputy Sheriff C. J. Fraunfelder and a posse of citizens in a lonely lane off the Elm-st. road, where Houston had arranged to deliver a quantity of the alleged stolen whiskey. It is charged. Others made their escape.

It was during an exchange of bullets that Houston is said to have pointed a gun at Fraunfelder. Hearing on the charge of carrying concealed weapons is set for Friday in Justice Rothkin's court but may be continued also.

FORCED TO FLEE. WIFE SAYS IN DIVORCE ANSWER

Mrs. Stella Brown, answering the divorce petition of her husband, Oliver Brown, filed some weeks ago, declares that his conduct towards her became unbearable and that she was forced to take her two children and flee.

The petition sets forth he habitually cursed and ill-treated her. She took her departure July 21, last. Mrs. Brown charges she was forced to take her children and flee to her parents' home and do laundry work, to provide for herself and little brood. She says her husband would not give her money for Sunday school and church work.

Brown charges his wife with neglect.

151ST O. V. I. REUNION PLANNED FOR SEPT. 21

Survivors of the 151st Regiment, O. V. I. will gather at Memorial Hall Wednesday, September 21, for their 20th annual reunion.

In the invitations sent out to the veterans, it is pointed out that this meeting may be the last for many of the civil war heroes, as their ranks are fast thinning out.

J. L. B. Leatherman, of Harrod, is president of the organization and Pansy V. Jansen secretary.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Paul Clement Myers, 25, bank clerk, Findlay, and Miss Geraldine Shirley Ewing, 20, Bluffton. Franklin Shroll, 20, carpenter, Harrod, and Mrs. Lucy Ethel Sprague, 26, cook, 116 N. Central.

C. C. CODE COMMITTEE HEARS REPORT OF VISIT TO DAYTON BY CHAIRMAN

Members of the building code committee of the Chamber of Commerce met at the Lima Club, for luncheon, Thursday and discussed the future code planned for this city. This is the third meeting of the committee. P. M. Hulsen is chairman.

Results of a recent visit to Dayton, made by Hulsen, to investigate the working of the code in that city, was related. Lima's code will be formulated from existing codes used in the leading cities of the state. However, it is not the plan to merely copy the requirements. Each condition and clause inserted will be weighed carefully and adjusted to suit local conditions.

WINE PERMITTED

Making of 200 Gallons For Home Use Allowed.

WASHINGTON. — (By Associated Press.) — Internal revenue bureau officials frankly acknowledged today that heads of families may, upon filing of notification with local revenue collector, manufacture 200 gallons of wine yearly for home use. Treasury regulations making effective such a provision of the law were issued by Internal Revenue Commissioner Roper with the approval of Secretary McAdoo, in October, 1918, and because of the general lack of public knowledge respecting the provision, congress never has enacted legislation nullifying it, officials said.

The law applies specifically to exemption from payment of tax, officials pointed out, but in its application makes manufacture of wine at home possible provided the manufacture is by the head of a family and the wine produced be not sold or otherwise removed from the place of manufacture.

MAYOR'S COURT ROOM IN SAFETY BUILDING IS NOW WAITING ROOM

As a place in which prisoners are tried and justice meted out, the mayor's court room is no more.

Judge Emmett Jackson, of criminal court and Clerk James I. Heffner, Thursday changed the mayor's court room into a waiting room, and announced that in the future all cases will be heard in the regular court room. The rostrum and platform that once graced the mayor's court room will be used to kinde fires this winter.

When criminal court of today was mayor's court, that city executive heard ordinary cases in his office, which was designed to resemble a miniature court room. When trials of an unusual character, or jury trials with many people present, were heard, they were taken to the larger court room directly across the hall. It is in that room that all cases will be heard in the future. Judge Jackson announced Thursday.

The rostrum and the platform in the old court room have been removed. A table and chairs have been placed there, and in the future that room will be used as a waiting room.

FRANKLIN MAN FINED HERE FOR STEALING

Arraigned in police court on a petit larceny charge, Thursday, Joe Pith, 25, negro, 121 E. Wayne-st. pleaded guilty. He was fined $50 by Judge Jackson. In default, Pith was committed to the county jail.

Altho Pith is charged with having stolen automobile tires from John T. Langan, charges were preferred against him by Grant Neuman.

Pith was arrested Wednesday in Franklin, Ohio. Patrolman Hamilton brought him from that city Wednesday night.

WIFE PLEADS FOR HUSBAND IN COURT

Pleading guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct, when arraigned in police court, Thursday, John Eberle, 59, 1150 Arch-ave. pleaded guilty. He was fined $5 by Judge Jackson.

According to police, Eberle was arrested Wednesday night upon complaint of his wife, who reported that he had struck her. Mrs. Eberle appeared in police court Thursday and sought leniency for her husband.

BODY TAKEN TO BEAVERDAM

The body of Robert Whistler, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Whistler, Beavertown, who died Wednesday night at City hospital, has been removed to the home of the parents in Beavertown. Both followed an operation. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at the residence.

CASES OF TRUANCY ARE NUMEROUS

Part Time Schools Not to be Established Here.

Request made by Director of Education Vernon Kiegel to boards of education that part time schools be established for children employed, will not be followed in Lima at present, it was learned Thursday.

Superintendent of Schools, J. E. Collins stated that the first effort will be to stamp out truancy in the city. At present he asserted there are 207 children in the city absent from school who should be in class.

Night school, which will commence October 1, will replace part time schools, he believed. The law authorizing part time schools does not go into effect until September 1, 1922 and requires four hours class work each week. The night schools here will supply the need. Industrial conditions are such that the number of children working is below normal. Many are attending regular school.

Some part time work has been inaugurated at South High, Superintendent Collins stated. G. D. Chamberlain is in charge of classes for young men there during the afternoon.

Director Kiegel also urges that hygiene and physical training be emphasized and Prof. Collins stated that the Lima schools are above the average in that particular.

SEEKER OF LICENSE TO WED APPEARS IN HIS SHIRT SLEEVES

"We came to see if you had any more of those papers left — you know the kind that ties us up," Franklin Shroll, 30, carpenter, Harrod, told Miss Jessie Miller, marriage license clerk, Thursday.

He gave the response in reply to her question as to what information was desired of the probate office. Shroll came to court in his shirt sleeves. Not even his shirt would ever have belated him was seeking a marriage license. His bride is Mrs. Lucy Ethel Sprague, 26, cook, 116 N. Central-ave. A license was issued.

Shroll is a widower. His wife has been previously married, but is now divorced.

BODY OF LIMA BOY, LEO C. SCHMERSAL, IS EN ROUTE TO COLUMBUS

The body of Leo C. Schmiersal, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Schmiersal, 207 W. Wayne-st., will arrive in Columbus Friday afternoon. It will be among bodies of 81 overseas soldiers who will be brought to Columbus, Friday, for distribution to their homes in Ohio, and neighboring states.

A telegram was received by the parents of Schmiersal on August 26, advising them their son's body had arrived in Hoboken the day previous. Nearly three weeks elapsed and still the family had no further word.

Their first intimation the body was en route to Ohio was when they were notified by The Lima News, Thursday noon.

Before enlisting in the army, Schmiersal was an electric crane operator at the Locomotive works. He was a member of St. Rose Catholic church and of the Knights of Columbus. He is survived, besides his parents, by a brother, Clarence, and a sister, Miss Mildred Schmiersal.

Schmiersal was killed November 1, 1918, when a piece of shrapnel struck him squarely in the forehead. He was fighting with American forces in the front line trenches in the Argonne sector.

RELATIVES OF MAN, ILL IN ROCHESTER, NOT LOCATED HERE

W. W. Phalen, Seattle, Washington, stricken with apoplexy in a Rochester, N. Y. hotel on Wednesday, is unknown to families of the same name in Lima.

Phalen was registered at the Osburn house, according to word from Rochester and was removed to the Hahnemann hospital following the attack. He was unconscious up to a late hour Wednesday night. He registered at the Osburn one week ago.

A night wire sent to the Seattle police brought reply that the man has relatives in Lima. Efforts to locate them were fruitless.

BOARD CHEAPER

COLUMBUS. — Students entering Ohio State University this fall are finding board cheaper and room rents higher.

Average rent per month for a room for two students is $24, according to university Y. M. C. A. officials. The "Y" has over 1,000 rooms listed, all under $30 a month. They are being quickly grabbed up. A record enrollment is anticipated.

TO RULE AGAINST FORD RATE CUT

Examiners For State Body Will Recommend Rejection.

Examiners of the interstate commerce commission Thursday announced they would recommend that reduction in rates sought by the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton Railroad be denied, according to reports from Columbus.

The examiners said their recommendations would be based on the fact representatives of Henry Ford failed to appear and show cause why the rates should be lowered.

The Detroit, Toledo & Ironton Railroad had sought a rate decrease, averaging 20 per cent on all freight tariffs.

Attorneys for other railroads in contesting the reduction, pointed out that under the law a carrier making application, must show justification for a change.

The hearing before the examiners will be concluded Friday attorneys for railroads said.

Wilbur LaRoe, Jr., counsel for West Virginia coal operators, declared a difference of 40 cents a ton on freight rate of coal exists between southern Ohio and West Virginia. He said the difference that would be established if Ford's schedule was allowed would ruin coal carrying business of other roads.

ONLY TWO BIDS FOR ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT

L. K. Comstock & Co., Cleveland and the Northern Electric company, Columbus, were the only firms bidding on the installation of electrical equipment at the North-st pumping plant. Bids were received at the city hall Thursday.

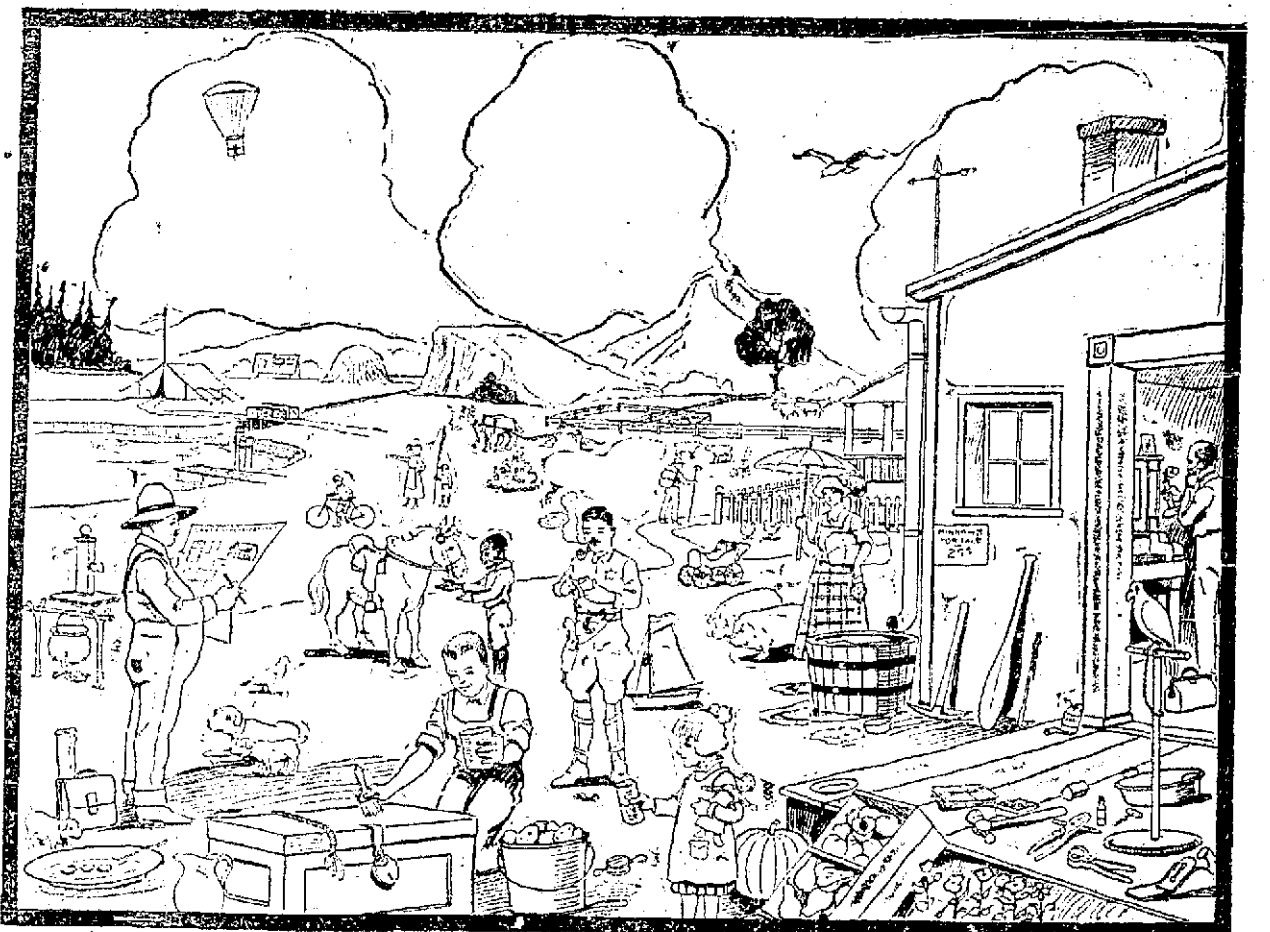

The prices submitted include the cost of running a power line from the plant to connect with the boulevard lighting system. The current for the system will be generated at the plant.

Neither of the bids have been accepted by the board of control.

OPEN SHOP PLAN IS ADOPTED

Action Taken by Four of Nation's Largest Packers.

ANNOUNCED AT CHICAGO

Companies Will No Longer Deal With Unions.

(By CARL VICTOR LITTLE)

CHICAGO (By United Press) — The "open shop" plan was established today by four of the nation's largest packers.

Officials of the International Butchers' Union were notified by the packers that in the future only the employees and not union officials would be dealt with.

The agreement under which Federal Judge Samuel Alschuler acted as arbitrator in disputes between packers and union employees, expired today and in its place the "American shop representation plan" was established.

The packers announced that more than 90 per cent of 75,000 employees in the country voted in favor of the plan. In all the large packing concerns the companies have formed the employees into organizations, representatives of which treat with company officials in matters of working conditions and wages.

The packers that have thrown their companies into open shops are: Armour and Company, Swift and Company, Wilson and Company and the Cudahy Packing Company. No announcement has been made by Morris and Company of a shop representation plan.

With the announcement of the open shop, came the statement that there would be no immediate readjustment of wages or working conditions, both of which remain the same as under the Alschuler agreement.

James D. Condon, packers' attorney, outlined the "American shop representation plan" in operation in the four concerns to the United Press as follows:

All men and women are eligible to employment whether members of outside unions or not.

No person may represent employees in adjustment of grievances who is not an employee of the company.

The employees elect their own representatives by ballot. These representatives must be American citizens.

Employees elected as representatives treat with executives of the companies in the matters of wage scales and working conditions.

GARFORD PURCHASING AGENT INJURED WHEN AUTO AND CAR CRASH

Morgan C. Newton, 118 N. Collett-st., purchasing agent for the Garford Motor Truck company, suffered severe injuries when an automobile in which he was driving collided with a Western Ohio interurban car at Market and Jameson-sts. Wednesday night.

The automobile was damaged. Newton received painful cuts on the face and scalp, a fractured leg and bruises.

Examination made by a surgeon at St. Rita's hospital Thursday revealed that no fracture of the skull had been incurred. Newton was returning to the city from the Elks' clambake at Macbeth park. No one was in the machine with him.

Persons residing in the neighborhood of the accident extricated Newton from his perilous position. He was removed to St. Rita's hospital in the Williams and Davis ambulance.

GEN. DAWES SAVES $115,000,000

Commissioner Slashes Millions From Expenditures.

WASHINGTON. — American taxpayers have saved more than $115,000,000 by employing General Charles G. Dawes as director of the budget for the last three months.

That $115,000,000 will be saved thru measures introduced by Dawes that can be reduced to actual figures. But, besides, Dawes has set up half a dozen economy measures and reforms that will result in the saving of uncalculated millions as time goes on.

The first thing the new budget director did was to cut his own appropriation.

Congress granted the budget bureau $225,000—considered a small appropriation beside the millions granted to other departments. Dawes promptly lopped off 25 per cent of that. He says he'll accomplish all his tremendous saving at a cost to the government of only $168,750.

Next, Dawes announced his budget estimates for all departments. He showed that he had cut down costs enough to save $112,512,628.

The biggest saving was in the Treasury Department—$30,342,149. The next greatest was in the Interior Department—$199,827,191.

"The budget machinery," Dawes says, "must last as long as the republic."

"I am not an administrator. My duties are simply collecting information for the use of the president and Congress, who will act or will not act on it in their own good judgment."

LOAN COMPANIES MAKE BIG GAIN IN ONE YEAR

A net increase of $757,159 in the assets of the nine Building and Loan associations in Allen-co was shown in the annual report just completed by John W. Prugh, state superintendent of building and loan associations.

Assets of the nine associations for the fiscal year ending June 30 were $12,069,254, as against $12,312,097 for the previous year, a gain of approximately seven per cent.

Ten years ago there were eight such institutions in Allen-co and their assets totaled only $5,469,901. During this period the gain in assets has been nearly 133 per cent or $7,599,353.

Building and Loan officials point out that if this increase is maintained the housing situation will be materially remedied.

B. AND O. ASKS PERMIT TO BUY ANOTHER ROAD

WASHINGTON. — The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad applied to the Interstate Commerce Commission today for authority to purchase the entire capital stock of the Indian Creek and Northern Railroad.

The latter road is a coal feeder in West Virginia. It has outstanding 500 shares of common stock with a par value of $100 a share.

FALL STYLES GIVE MEN BUSTLE EFFECT

COLUMBUS — (By United Press) — The man with two changes of clothing is about half naked, according to the standards of L. C. Tyler.

Tyler, chairman of the fashion committee of the National Cutters Association, declared today $2,000 a year was an insignificant expenditure for modern fall leaves.

The styles for fall will give men the "bustle" effect, according to Tyler. The trousers will have plaits in the front, "creating a large thigh," he announced.

The only other change will be in the waist coat which will be shorter and "with round points."

Tyler then gave a partial list of the wardrobe for modern man: Six sacque suits, one dress suit, two dinner suits, two dress overcoats, one overcoat for wear with cutaways, two ulsters, one caber coat, one raincoat, one new market overcoat, two golf suits, two riding suits, one gaberdine coat, six pairs of white flannel trousers, two braided sacque coats and fancy waistcoats with checked trousers, two cutaways, three fancy waistcoats, three full dress waistcoats and one fur-lined overcoat.

FIG LEAF GIVEN O. K. CHICAGO — The official O. K. on the fig leaf worn by Eve, was given today by Karl N. Werntz, director of the Academy of Fine Arts.

"Fashions do not rule as much as do individual tastes, and the blues of individual figures," Werntz told the Fashion Art League, in session here.

"Eve, in selecting her first gown, chose the fig leaf for its lines of character, symmetry and beauty. "The fig leaf is what we artists call a good two and three proportion—in other words, it has good lines. "Some fashions that have been evolved since the fig leaf, have not been nearly so beautiful and artistic."

How Yeast Vitamon Tablets Put Flesh on Thin Folks

STRENGTHEN THE NERVES AND INVIGORATE THE BODY—EASY AND ECONOMICAL TO TAKE—RESULTS SURPRISINGLY QUICK

NUXATED IRON

Helps make rich red blood and revitalize weak nerves

IS THIN WATERY BLOOD RUINING YOUR HEALTH?

AND SAPPING YOUR BODY AND MENTAL VIGOR. LEAVING YOU WEAK, NERVOUS AND IRRITABLE AND MAKING A FAILURE OUT OF YOU? HOW TO TELL

If you suspect you may be suffering from iron starvation, do not wait until you go all to pieces and collapse in a state of nervous prostration or until in your weakened condition you contract some serious disease, but consult your family physician and have him take a specimen of your blood and make a "blood count" of your red blood corpuscles to test the iron-power of your blood yourself by adding plenty of spinach, carrots, or other iron-containing vegetables to your food and take organic iron like Nuxated Iron with them for a while and see how much your condition improves.

Thousands of people have surprisingly increased their strength, energy and endurance in two weeks' time by this simple experiment. But in making this test, be sure the iron you take is organic iron—Nuxated Iron—and not metallic or mineral iron which people usually take. Organic Nuxated Iron is like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, while metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron. Nuxated Iron represents organic iron in such a highly concentrated form that one dose is estimated to be approximately equivalent (in organic iron content) to eating half a quart of spinach or one quart of green vegetables. It is like taking extract of beef instead of eating pounds of meat. Beware of substitutes. Look for the word "Nuxated" on every package and for the letters N. I. on every tablet. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturers if you do not obtain perfectly satisfactory results. For sale by all druggists. —Adv.

DR. THOMAS SEES CHURCH PERIL

Ministers Trained as Mere Salesmen, He Declares.

LARGEST REVENUE SOUGHT

Chicago Preacher Sounds Warning At London Conference.

LONDON.—(By Associated Press) —Modern ministers are trained as mere "salesmen" instead of Christian apostles and that is one reason why the people generally have a lukewarm attitude toward religion, declared the Rev. Dr. J. S. Ladd Thomas of Chicago, in an address here today before the Ecumenical Methodist Conference. The speaker said he saw "a real peril" in the effort of denominational leaders to force the ministry into a narrow and mechanical scheme whose direct aim is to produce the largest immediate revenue.

"Poorly attended churches all over the land bear witness to the people's indifference toward institutional religion," said Dr. Thomas. "Full churches are the exception rather than the rule. It is the empty church which stares us in the face, and, more eloquently than words, speaks of the attitude of that large group of people who have rejected institutional religion as something unnecessary in their lives."

REAL PROBLEM — They are pleasure mad; they have a mania for materialistic indulgence, while their belief in the modern church as the representative of God and the Ambassador of Christ does not express itself. The real problem," the speaker indicated, "is how to vitalize the church so that she may authoritatively and convincingly persuade men of their divine inheritance and the mission of sacrificial service."

Assessing that "the average Christian lacks confidence in the church as the champion of the 'square deal,' he continued: WRONG TEACHING — "This indifference has arisen from a misconception of God — a wrong teaching of God — a wrong teaching of the church and a wrong teaching of the Christian life. In many of the critical hours of history the church has failed to impress the world with an authoritative message which would bring light into the dark hours on the subject of the relations of capital and labor and other vital questions which have been baffling the minds of men."

"Prophets and priests" Dr. Thomas said "must challenge the people with a gospel that will restore confidence in the church, trust in Christ and service to the world. The church must not forget her social message but she must also remember that Christianity is a religion of the individual."

TESTS FOR APPLICANTS TO WED TO BE ASKED

COLUMBUS — Medical examination of all applicants for marriage licenses will be sought in a bill before the next session of the state legislature, according to Dr. H. S. MacNeal, director of health.

Dr. MacNeal made the announcement before the annual meeting of the executive committee of the Ohio Women's Federation of Social Health in session here.

MacNeal also declared himself in favor of sex education in public schools, declaring "it is better to prevent rather than salvage" wrong doing.

THINKS WOMEN PREACHERS WOULD DRAW MORE MEN

CHICAGO — If there were more women preachers in the pulpits, there would be more men in the churches, Mrs. M. Madeline Southard, president of the International Association of Women Preachers, told members of that organization at their convention here.

Mrs. Southard accused men of "feminizing the church" and asserted that if there were more women preachers, more men would become interested in church work. Quoting Francis Willard, she said:

"Men have been preaching for 2,000 years and the large majority of their converts have been women. Suppose that women should share the preaching power, would not the majority of their converts be men?"

U. S. NAVAL BIRDS SAVE LIVES

Carrier Pigeons Prove Valuable To Aviators

(By T. N. SANDIFER) — (By International News Service) —When President Harding sent back messages by carrier pigeon from the Mayflower recently, while on a cruise at sea, he indirectly brought to public knowledge one of the least known, but most valuable organizations of the American Navy—its pigeon service.

Every service in the world at present is striving to perfect its pigeon messengers, naval fliers being especially interested in this development. At present, however, it is safe to say that no service has gone further than the pigeon service of America's naval aviators.

The "feathered aviators" of the American naval flying service are on constant active duty, and scarcely a month passes without some report of life saved or valuable machine saved from abandonment or destruction.

So valuable are these birds considered that there is a standing order that no naval airplane or other flying machine leaves on a flight without one. Only a short while ago a Navy flier had to make a forced landing far down the Patuxent river, below Washington. His motor was stopped, and his only means of communicating his plight was by pigeon messenger. Within a short while, "Q. Q.," spare parts were sent him. The flier made his own repairs and was able to resume flight, escaping what might have proved a dangerous predicament otherwise.

NAVY PIGEONS SEA-GOING

In view of such work and the obvious need for such a service, a pigeon loft, filled with trained birds is now located at every American naval air station everywhere in the world. There are "lofts" aboard both the Navy's sea-going aircraft carriers, the Langley and the Wright, the former at Norfolk and the latter at Hokenok.

By trained birds, from the Navy's standpoint, is meant that not only that a bird can deliver a message under ordinary conditions. Far from it. Navy pigeons have to be sea-going, capable of flying over wide stretches of heaving waters by night, in storm, or in any sort of emergency. In fact, most of their work is in emergencies, when conditions are just the opposite from land flying. And because sea-flying is contrary to the hereditary traits and abilities of pigeons, Navy birds have to be specially bred from nautical ancestors and trained for the service. So well has this been done that Pilot's Hope, one of the veterans of the lofts, with an enviable record for war flying abroad, delivered almost a million messages from planes at sea during the last month of the war and during one year covered 2,623 miles, actually saving time and air craft on various occasions. Another veteran, The Skipper, flew with planes operating off Beers, France, and holds the record of delivering messages from 400 miles at sea the morning after he departed from the plane. Peerless Pilot, another bird, served on planes out of Pauillac, France, a French naval base, delivering 178 messages during the last year of the war, although only 13 months old.

It is hoped under present plans to rear and train birds at sea, so that each ship will have its own birds, who can "spot" their home on the ocean though out of sight of land.

Potato Shortage Myth, Says Department of Agriculture.

WASHINGTON. — By N. E. A. — Rumors of an acute Irish potato shortage this winter are without foundation.

The 1921 potato crop will be only 15 per cent below the 10-year average, according to Department of Agriculture estimates. Food experts, however, believe that the shortage will be counterbalanced by the fact that business depression has checked food waste. Housewives are purring potatoes more closely. Economy in the kitchen is cutting down the amount of cooked potatoes that are left over from meals and go to the garbage cans.

It will require not much such economy to make 85 potatoes this winter go as far as 100 went last winter. And that's what the potato situation calls for.

BETTER CONDITION

Hot, dry summer injured the Irish potato crop nationally. Ruined it, in some sections.

Sweet potato crop will run about as usual, no shortage, the crop now being estimated at 110,000,000 bushels, or 97 per cent of average.

The crop of white potatoes will be about 223,000,000 bushels—roughly three bushels for every American.

The 1915-1919 average for white potatoes was 371,233,000 bushels a year. The 1920 crop of 428,000,000 bushels was exceptionally big and cannot be used as a fair comparison.

Department of Agriculture estimates the crop is in better condition than was believed a month ago. Final yield may be still better.

Officials point out that the potato crop is in bad shape compared with the apple yield, which is estimated now at 55 per cent of usual average, grapes 65 and pears 68.

1919 the 6-11 mayfay him him him

PRICE HIGH NOW

Even if the potato market goes into a mild shortage, market experts look for no material price advance. They point out that potato prices in cities now are very high, far out of line with what farmers are getting. This is one cause of the short crop. Michigan farmers have been getting as low as 15 cents a bushel for potatoes, so many potatoes are rotting in the fields.

New York, as usual, will produce more potatoes than any other state. Pennsylvania will come second in potato yield, according to late estimates. Maine third, Minnesota fourth, Wisconsin fifth, Michigan sixth, California seventh, Colorado eighth, Virginia ninth.

MRS. FRED NEWTON CURED HAY FEVER BY KERKER REMEDY

Well Known Resident of Dresden, Ohio, Suffered for 11 Years

"I was down in bed with hay fever, from which I have suffered for 11 years, when, in desperation, my husband secured a bottle of Kerker's Asthma and Hay Fever Remedy," says Mrs. Fred Newton of Dresden, Ohio. "I got wonderful results with the very first bottle. That was last summer. I took three bottles all together and I did not have a sign of hay fever after that. I am cured."

"The results I got from the Kerker remedy are all the more wonderful when you consider how bad I had it. I suffered from it in the 11 years I suffered from it. I had used many other medicines and treated with physicians, but got little or no relief."

"The Kerker remedy will either do the work if directions are followed."

LIMA WAR HERO'S BODY IN U. S.

Remains of Leo Schmersel Due Here in Few Days.

The body of Leo C. Schmersel, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Schmersel, 307 W. Wayne-st, who lost his life while fighting with the American forces in the front line trenches in the Argonne sector 10 days before the Armistice was signed, is expected to arrive in Lima soon from Hoboken, N. J.

Schmersel was killed instantly on the morning of Nov. 1, 1918, when a small piece of shrapnel struck him squarely in the forehead, according to word brought to Lima by several of his comrades who were with him when he fell.

PARENTS AWAIT WORD

His parents received a telegram from the War department August 26, advising them that their son's body arrived in Hoboken the day previous. The message instructed them not to make any arrangements for funeral services or burial until they received further word.

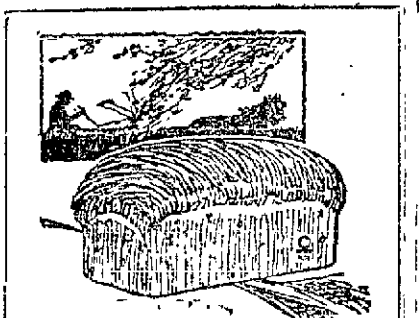

Since that time, nearly three weeks ago, Mr. and Mrs. Schmersel have not heard from the War department as to when to expect the arrival of the body of their heroic son.

Before enlisting in the army, Schmersel was an electric crane operator at the Lima Locomotive Works. He was a member of St. Rose catholic church, and an active member of the Knights of Columbus lodge.

Besides his parents he leaves a brother, Clarence, and a sister Miss Mildred Schmersel.

He was a member of Co. F, 13th Infantry, of the 84th division.

LOAN COMPANIES MAKE BIG GAIN

Auglaize-co Associations Prosper —St. Marys News.

ST. MARYS. — (Special) — A big gain is shown in Auglaize-co in assets of building and loan associations, according to report compiled by John W. Pugh, state superintendent of building and loan associations. There has been a net increase of $371,889 during the last fiscal year.

Assets of seven building and loan associations in the county during the year ending June 30 totaled $3,197,934, as against $2,806,063 the previous year, a gain of about 13 per cent. Ten years ago there were six associations in this county, with assets totalling only $1,269,396. The gain in assets in that period has been nearly 151 per cent, or $1,908,538.

A three day session of the Auglaize Lutheran conference, held at Zion Lutheran church here, closed Thursday.

Welcome News to Prospective Home Furnishers

The Hoover-Bond Furniture Company announces with no small degree of pleasure that the new Fall prices on Furniture are now established throughout its large store and that the average price change is at least a third less than the prices prevailing last Spring.

This should be most welcome news to the thousands in and around Lima who have been awaiting such information. We make the above statement only after the most careful and far-reaching investigations, and assure those who intend furnishing a home that at Hoover-Bond, at least, prices have reached what authorities assert to be "bedrock."

Many of our trade journals predict an advance in the price of the better grades of furniture, and we are able to sense this condition because of a slight scarcity, even now, in a few lines, which condition is sure to spread to many lines as the Fall buying begins in earnest.

It is the opinion, too, of those closest in touch with the situation that the person who buys now is heading a valuable tip—since prices will not go lower and assortments later will be lessened.

Hoover-Bond's new Fall Furniture is arriving daily and every piece is guaranteed as to Quality, Service and Price. The new period styles as well as the many standard designs are now shown in all the freshness and newness.

Truly, there is no time like the present for furniture buying, and because the new low Fall prices are established a double advantage is evident. You are most cordially invited to view our fine new displays of house needs, and to make selection for later delivery if desirable.

Of course, all prices are marked in plain, readable figures—you can wait on your self if you like, or men thoroughly trained in the art of home-making will be pleased to offer their services.

We'd be glad to have you come in soon

Mother of Alice Calhoun Tells Price of Success
In Shadowland

MRS. FLORENCE CALHOUN AND HER DAUGHTER, ALICE CALHOUN, THE VITAGRAPH STAR.

Movies and morals are being discussed everywhere as a result of the Arbuckle case. What price must a girl pay for a movie career? The question is answered in this series of articles written especially for the The Lima News by Mrs. Florence Calhoun, mother of Alice Calhoun, the Vitagraph star who in five years has risen from a $5-a-day extra to a $1000-a-week performer.

BY FLORENCE CALHOUN

Mother of Alice Calhoun, Vitagraph Star, the Youngest in the Movies
Of Morals and the Movies much has been said: How do film plays influence the morals of the audience? How far does public taste determine the ethics of shadow-land? Is the fan mail of every successful star comes many queries about the fitness of movie-land as a place for a girl to make her career? As the mother of Alice Calhoun I have been fated to read an enormous number of such letters. I think that a single brief answer covers them all: Human beings are the same, on a set or off; human nature can't be changed by a make-up; nor the heart of man or maid by a costume; nor conduct by the ability to act a part.

Alice Calhoun and I are still very new to the magical mysterious world behind the silver sheet. So new that it seems only yesterday since I, the mother, hovered close to the broad chalk line, studied the actors moving briskly through a scene, and asked anxiously:

"Where's my daughter? Where's Alice?" Since that day I have learned a good deal more than how to pick out my own child under a Kleig light. I have learned that movie actresses and actors bring out of the movie environment just about what they take into it.

Character means resistance to evil, and business, and sloth, and some other things, and the girl who cannot survive the temptations of the movies probably would not survive the temptations of an office, or a shop or factory or society.

Character means the impossibility of being displayed, I learned years ago when it still was fashionable to read Emerson.

Today there's a new word for the same old spirit. We no longer talk about building character, we discuss morale.

In one way, morale and morals mean the same thing. Nobody even will have reason to question the character of any person who possesses a high morale.

This is about the first observation I made in film-land, and it is the one I have most often handed on to inquiring mothers made anxious by the ambitions of beautiful daughters aspiring to careers upon the silver sheet.

There are various kinds of morale as well as various degrees. The most obvious of all the morales is courage. Many a movie star has "a rendezvous with death," as when the scenario demands a conflagration.

Frequently a film star must stay in bed with bandaged eyes for a day, perhaps for several days, while her eyes are being treated for inflammation caused by the lights used in close-ups. It is an accepted hazard of the business.

There are other morales without which no movie star has ever yet succeeded. Some, which are of especial interest to movie fans, I will discuss in my article tomorrow.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

A SCOUT FOR VIRGINIA

By HUGH PEINDEXTER

Madsl Morris, a young surveyor, when war breaks out between the Indians and frontiersmen of Pennsylvania, Virginia and Kentucky, becomes a messenger from Fort Pitt to the governor of Virginia, and Earl of Dunmore. Ploiting down the Cheat river and grounding on the bank near Morris comes a canoe with a murdered Indian, Bald Eagle, a friend of the whites, propped up in it. Shelby Cousin, a boy of eighteen, sole survivor of an Indian massacre ten years before, in which his parents were killed and his sister, a year older than he, carried off, appears suddenly and pronounces the murders as the work of Indian Runners, an Indian hater. Cousin is an Indian killer, regardless of friend or foe. Morris pushes on to Patrick Davis' home on Howard Creek, where the settlers are hastily building a fort. Alice Runner, with Rickett and Scott, two other killers, come in. Despite their warnings, Morris, tired out, decides to stay over night. A child screams in the forest; the woodsman hurries to the rescue, and the women, with axes, form a line of defense. It is discovered that a little girl is missing.

The blue began bending at the ends to form a half-circle. The distracted little mother left her place in it. She gathered her linsey petticoat snugly about her, and grasping an axe ran swiftly toward the direction of the screaming. The Widow McCabe dashed after Mrs. Moulton.

With unerring abruptness a man laughed boisterously directly ahead of me. Yells and questions filled the arches of the deep wood.

"Everybody back! False alarm! Nothin' but the gal gittin' skeered," he shouted. "I'm fetchin' her in, an' th' feller what skeered her."

Mrs. Moulton dropped her axe and with both hands held to her face stumbled into the clearing.

"Here they come! Two babblers!" some one shouted.

The bush-growth swayed and parted. First came the frightened child, then a grinning woodsman, and back of him rode a tall man of very powerful build, but with a face so fat as to appear round and wearing an expression of stupidity.

He was known as "Baby" Kirt, and he was a Nemesis the Indians had raised against themselves which their superstitions would not permit them to kill.

His intelligence was that of a child of seven. When about that age his people were massacred on the Greenbrier and he had been left for dead with a portion of his scalp ripped off and a ghastly wound in his head. He had survived, but with his mental growth checked.

Physically he had developed muscle and bone until he was a giant in strength.

His instinct to kill was aroused against Indians only. Nor was he always possessed by this ungovernable rage. Sometimes he would spend a day in an Indian camp, but woe to the warrior who even inadvertently crossed his whims.

Already dismounting from his rawbone horse, he stared around the circle and with one hand held behind him tantalizingly said:

"Got something. Shant let you peek at it."

"Let's see it, Baby," coaxed Runner, his tone such as he might use in pleading with a child.

Slowly Baby drew from behind him the scalp of a white man. It was long, dark brown hair, turned to a yellowish white at the ends by the sun.

"That's Ben Kirby's hair!" gasped Scott, staring in horror at the exhibit. Then aside, "Good God, he ain't took to killing whites, has he?"

"Where'd you git it, Baby?"

coaxed Hacker. "Davis will give you a big bowl of mush and lasses."

"That man had it," proudly informed Baby, and he fished from the bosom of his hunting-shirt a hank of coarse black hair.

"A Shawnee scalp!" yelled Runner. "Some dog of a Shawnee rubbed out Kirby. His hair's been off his head these six weeks. No wonder he ain't come in to help you folks to fort."

Baby meets this Shawnee and gives him his needings. The red devil's scalp ain't more'n three days old. Good for you, Baby! Good boy! Give him all the lasses he can hold. Needn't worry about any raid s'long as he stays here, Davis."

If we could only keep him!" sighed Davis.

"But you can't," spoke up a young man. "A day or two, yes, he must go back to the woods. When the Indians failed to finish him off they did a mighty bad job for themselves."

"We'll keep him long's we can," said Davis. "Hi, mother! Fill the mixing-bowl with mush and cover it with sweeting."

It was after sunset before the roof of the fort was finished. It was agreed that the men with families should sleep in the fort the night with the single men occupying cabins nearest the fort. I took up my quarters in the Davis cabin, after reminding my friends again that I must start early in the morning to cross the mountains on my way to Col. Lewis, who lived near Salem.

"Why, land sake! To Salem! Why, look here! You'll be seeing my cousin, Ericus Dale!" excitedly exclaimed Mrs. Davis. "My cousin, Ericus, ain't got many warm spots in his heart for Governor Dunmore. He's sure to be get ag'in this war."

Then to me, "I want you to see Patsy and tell her not to think of coming out here this summer. She's not to come till the Indians been well whipped."

"Coming out here?" I dully repeated.

"They was opinin' to when I last got word from 'em last March. They was at their home in Williamsburg, and the girl wrote she was going to Salem with her father. 'Spected to be there all summer, and was 'lowing to come out here with her daddy. But seeing how things is going, it won't do. Mobbe Salem even won't be safe for 'em. It won't put you out any to see her and tell her?"

I trusted to the dusk to conceal my burning cheeks. I had supposed I had secured control of myself during my three years on the border. It would be impossible for any man who had looked into Patsy Dale's dark blue eyes to forget her; and we had been something more than friends. I promised Mrs. Davis I would do her errand, and hurried from the cabin.

In the morning I bade the people good-bye and received their kindly wishes for a safe journey.

Along toward the noon hour my horse, an old campaigner in wildness work, pricked his ears as we began dipping down a gentle slope.

I leaned forward and looked between the horse's ears and discovered a bear down in the hollow, nosing about for nuts and grub on the bank of the brook. A bear was always acceptable meat to a settler, and I at once decided to stalk the brute and pack his carcass to the Grisdol cabin, where I aimed to warn the settlers, two men and two children.

I slid from my horse and started him down the slope, and then ducked into the grove and rapidly descended toward the brook. I had no fear of my horse losing himself, as he would make for the stream, where I would join him within a few minutes. I was fairly startled next to behold the bear emerge from behind a tree and walk upright toward the opening made by the brook, cutting across the trace. The bear was armed with a gun.

Expecting to see me on the horse when the animal reached the brook, the fellow's only thought was to remain unseen by any one in the trace. He halted behind a tree, but in full view of me, and standing with his left side exposed to me. Had I the instincts of a killer I might have shot him forthwith. As it was I whistled shrilly.

Like a flash the bearskin fell back and a painted Shawnee wheeled to face me. Even as he turned his smooth-bore banged away and half a dozen buckshot rained thru the branches over my head. He was slipping behind the tree when I fired.

He went down with a foot and part of his leg exposed. Reloading and circling warily to avoid being taken by surprise by any of his companions, I reached the tree. My shot had caught him thru the base of the neck, killing him instantly.

He wore a necklace of bear's claws and was hideously painted. He had the snake totem on his chest and was except for his breechcloth and moccasins. Fastened to his clout were four awful exhibits of his predaceous success—four scalps. One was gray, another streaked with gray, and two—oh, the pity of it—were soft and long!

I removed them and placed them in the roll of buckskin that I carried for moccasin-patches. And my heart being hardened, I scalped the murderer with never a qualm. No warning was longer needed at the Grisdol cabin. The Indians had struck.

Furtively scanning the grove, I stole to the trace where my horse stood fetlock-deep in the brook.

The four scalps proved the raiders were out in numbers, for a small party would not venture so far east. But the dead warrior's attempt to amuse me in a bearskin also proved he was working alone for the time being.

Mounting my horse, I turned north, left the trace, and picked a course where no trail ran, and from which I could occasionally catch a glimpse of the path some fifty feet below. That the Shawnees must have heard the roar of the smooth-bore and the whip-like crack of my Deckhard was not to be doubted. Nor would they fail to guess the truth, inasmuch as the rifle had spoken last.

It became very difficult to keep along the side of the slope and I dismounted and led the horse. The prolonged howl of a wolf sounded behind. I increased my pace, then halted and half-raised my rifle as there came a shuffling of feet above me accompanied by a tiny avalanche of forest mold and rotten chestnuts. I rested the rifle over the saddle and endeavored to peer thru the tangle.

The sliding, shuffling sound continued with no attempt to concealment that I could discover; and yet there was nothing to shoot at. Suddenly the noise ceased. I was still staring toward the spot where it had just sounded when a calm voice behind me called out:

"They're after you."

It was Shelby Cousin. "I've been scouting 'em," he informed me. "I seen you take to the side of this ridge. I seen 'em streamin' down the trace. They picked up your trail mighty smart. Now they're scattered all along behind you."

I opened the roll of buckskin and disclosed the terrible trophies. He fiercely whispered—

"How'd you git these from the devil?"

NOTE: To every laundress in Lima. Ask the woman of the house for a package of the wonderful new product for home washing. Remember the name—Rinso.

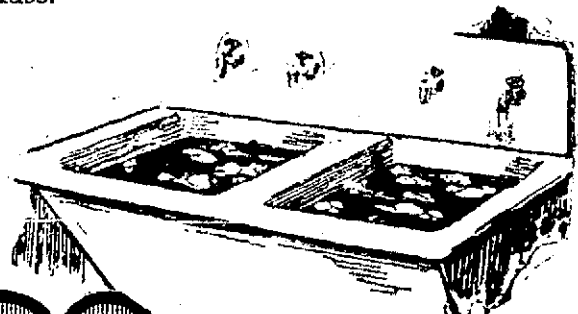

Can you imagine a man wearing his life away at a washboard

Of course not. Men refuse to do work in a hard, tiresome way when there is a quick, better way to do it.

More and more, women are following their lead. They are learning short cuts that give them time and energy to do the things they really want to do. Today hundreds of thousands of women are saving themselves the utter exhaustion of wash day by letting Rinso soak their clothes clean.

Rinso is a new soap product that loosens and dissolves dirt from even the heaviest and worst soiled pieces of the weekly wash without injuring a single fabric.

OLDEST MAN

I AM 133 years old, says Uncle John Shell, celebrating his birthday in a log cabin on Greasy Creek, Ky.

The census-taker in 1860 recorded Uncle John's age as 37. That would make him 98 years old now, instead of "the oldest man in the world."

But John insists there was an error in that early enumeration. He says he was born in 1788.

A similar case was Noah Raby, who died in a New Jersey poorhouse several years ago. Raby claimed to be 137 years old. After his death, the census bureau investigated and found that he was less than 100.

YOUR comment probably is, "I guess these stories about men living much beyond a century are hokum."

Not always! Henry Jenkins of Yorkshire, Eng., lived to 169 years. The king had his age investigated, became convinced that Henry was telling the truth, and had the old man come and live at the palace. The change killed him.

Thomas Parr of Shropshire, Eng., married first when he was 88, had two children, and died when he was 152. His grandson lived to 132, his great-grandson to 142.

Ireland in 1612 buried Countess of Desmond, aged 145.

Hungarian history records Peter Tortoni, peasant, who was 185 years old when he died in 1724. John Rovin, another Hungarian peasant, lived to be 172, his wife 164.

The oldest man in all history, whose age has been authenticated with reasonable conviction, was Numas de Cugna, native of Bengal, India, who died in 1556 at the age of 370. He was famous, all thru the Orient. Arabs considered him the eighth wonder of the world.

HOW can you live to be more than 100?

In the Berkshires, near the Connecticut line, there's a wood-chopper named Joseph Gillette. He is in his 100th year, chops wood 10 hours a day, six days a week—and says hard work is what made him live so long.

Most exceptionally old men have the same opinion.

But the real reason for their unusual age probably is that mysterious nature gives them an excess of the powerful current that drives the motors of the body.

Work, however, does prolong the average life. Many retired business men die before their time, from the rust of inaction.

More than 200 years ago, Arnauld, the great Frenchman, was urged to retire, by his friend Nicole.

"What for?" asked Arnauld.

"You are old. It is time to rest."

"Rest!" snorted Arnauld. "I have all eternity to rest in."

REFORESTING

HORSE-SENSE is displayed by paper manufacturers of the American Paper and Pulp Association, who have started to reforest the country on a big scale.

After waiting for years that the paper supply is menaced by forest depletion, it finally dawned on the paper makers that the man who cuts down a tree is the man who should plant one in its place.

There is too much of a tendency, nationally, to wait for Uncle Sam to do things that we could and should do for ourselves.

IS MARS INHABITED?

HOPING to prove beyond the peradventure of a doubt that the planet Mars is inhabited, the most ambitious attempt in the history of science will be made in 1924, under the direction of an American, Den Ali Macafee, who is now residing in France.

It is the purpose of this optimistic scientist to establish a gigantic telescope in a mine shaft in Chile, South America, in order to get a direct view of Mars when the planet is nearest to earth in 1924. By scientific arrangement, Macafee plans Mars will be brought within five miles of earth, theoretically, for photographic purposes.

In 1924, according to scientific calculations, Mars will be at its nearest point to earth, when, if possible at any time, photographs can be taken that will settle the question as to whether there is human or other life on the planet. A revolving metal dish filled with mercury will be provided, from which photographs will be taken. Since it has already been shown that Mars has a surface which resembles iron ore, it is believed that it is inhabited.

Macafee does not believe it possible to communicate by wireless, for the electrical waves would lose themselves in the different atmospheres that intervene. The only possible method, he is convinced, is by flashes of light. No attempt will be made to communicate with Mars, but thousands of photographs will be taken with the aid of the mine shaft device planned in Chile.

Chanarel, Chile, is chosen as the scene of the experiment, account its wonderful clear atmosphere. The ground is covered with a nitrate soil and is void of all vegetation. And Mars will be directly over that spot several times in 1924. It is hoped to throw light on the peculiar markings on the face of the planet which have long been thought artificial canals.

Sounds which Prof. William Marconi recently reported and which were believed to have come from Mars in an effort by Martians to communicate with the inhabitants of the earth, Macafee believes must have come from some other planet nearer the earth than Mars, if they came from any other planet at all.

BRITISH miners have started a movement to call an international miners' strike if another big war ever starts. Fine!

You can't modernize the average diplomat any more than you can change the leopard's spots. There'll be the danger of wars as long as people are willing to fight them.

But a people would be committing national suicide to refuse to go to battle unless the enemy people also refused.

Disarmament must begin among the people. It is not impossible to get the people of all countries to refuse to kill each other.

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

By PHYLIS PHILLIPS

NED'S TRAVELING COMPANIONS

Meanwhile Ned, in the smoking compartment of the Chicago express, was chewing on the stump of a black cigar and thinking almost savagely of his wife's cold farewell to him. Considering it was their first separation he was bitterly disappointed. He had fondly imagined that Cherry would feel badly, would cry a little, as many women would have done under the circumstances. But she had stood calm and distinctly dry-eyed as he kissed her. She had not said one tender word to him before he left, not even when he had drawn her to one side and put his arms around her. What a difference between wives and sweethearts.

Well, there was nothing to do but grin and bear it. He could not bring back her love if it was dead. She had been changed for sometime now. Even his mother had remarked about it one evening long ago, after Cherry had seemed particularly distant. He would work hard while in Chicago, and do his best to forget all worries. Thank goodness for work. It was a man's best friend after all.

There would be many good pals to look up in Chicago, when the day's work was through, so he need not worry about being lonesome. In the midst of these comforting reflections, however, he found himself thinking of how much more fun it would have been to have had Cherry along with him. They could have had a wonderful time wandering about at night, going to theatres and dancing to their hearts content. It was really too bad of her to have refused his invitation. What an earth made her do so? Was there some attraction in Wellsburg? Arthur! Here he closed his eyes wearily, refusing to allow himself the ungenerous thoughts.

Of course Arthur Hamlen had much more money than he, Ned Randall. He was handsome, undoubtedly so, into the bargain. There was no doubt that he was smitten with Cherry and her charms. Obviously so. Stupid, that he should have been called to Chicago just now. A fellow should be on the spot at a time like this. Still, his girl was a good girl. She was to be trusted, he knew. It was not this that bothered Ned, but the fact that Arthur might prove too attractive even for level-headed Cherry, and win her heart away. If this happened there was nothing for a gentleman to do but to step out and let the woman get a divorce. A divorce! Here his thoughts reverted to their first madly happy days together, in the mountains. Of the

Oh, for the touch of her hand, the smile of her, the sound of her infinitely dear voice. Ned Randall at that moment would have gladly given all he possessed for these things. But the train thundered along relentlessly thru the night as he pondered. And Cherry was just beginning to smile again and assure Miss Laura of her great love for her husband. She, too, would have given her all for a sight of him. (To Be Continued)

HEALTH HINTS

By William Brady, M. D.

TUMOR AND THE WOMAN
Prejudice based on ignorance and deliberate deception gives rise to a fear of the surgeon that spells tragedy for many a woman.

Surgery is a soothing thing, bringing surcease to the sufferer at least for a while, and never pain or suffering. I speak not as a doctor, but as a patient. There are some disease entities which truly harrow the mind of a doctor, who knows what we do not understand about them; there is no operation known to modern surgery that I would fear to undergo, now that I have had my little turn as a surgical patient. There is nothing disagreeable or difficult about taking an anesthetic, if you know something of anesthetics, their safety and their value. I say it is ignorance that gives surgery such an unmerited place in the minds of the unenlightened.

Thank heaven the common tumor of the womb, called fibroid tumor, is now amenable to radium treatment in a majority of cases, the operative removal is still unavoidable in a minority of cases. This fibroid (there may be several in an individual case) is not to be confused with cancer. Tumor means any swelling or enlargement or lump—a wart, a wen, a harmless fatty lump, a fibroid. Cancer means degeneration of some tissue or organ, not a new growth. Occasionally a more or less harmless tumor of long duration does undergo cancerous degeneration, to be sure. But tumor is something newly developed, cancer is a breaking down of some previously existing structure. Charlatans and their agents (often female, to the shame of the sex,) prefer victims to confuse tumor and cancer, of course. The simple truth, even a knowledge of physiology, soon shows the threatened victim the absurdity of false appeals. Women, unmarried or married, young or old, who suffer in any way which they imagine to be "peculiar to their sex," and fall to consult their physician, on the ground that it seems indicative to do so, make a sad mistake. Their procrastination, too often, carries them beyond hope of cure.

Removal of the tumor or tumors by surgery is still the best treatment in young women who hope to become mothers. Removal of the womb with the tumors is best for women 50 or older. Radium treatment is best for women with small tumors and excessive menstrual flow or hemorrhages at the time of the menopause.

WOMEN INVITED TO FISK LECTURES

Membership of 35 Clubs to Take Part in Institute Week.

Letters to presidents of 35 clubs in Lima inviting the organizations to attend the shoppers' lecture during the James W. Fisk institute week, beginning October 24, were sent out Thursday by Mrs. M. H. Keltner, vice-president of the Federated Women's Clubs.

The talk to the women will be given on Tuesday of institute week and will take up a number of ways by which women can aid merchants. The talk termed "What Women Can do to make shopping more satisfactory." The meeting will be held in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

Among the subjects to be touched on will be buying at home and explaining many causes of complaint made by shoppers. Each woman present will be invited to air any grievances she may have and to suggest improvements that might be made by the merchants.

It will be explained to the clubwomen by Fisk why returned goods, overdue accounts and other retail evils add to the price of merchandise.

During his five day stay Fisk will deliver eight addresses, some of his topics being: "Finding the Weak Spots," "How to Get People into the Store," "How to Sell," a talk to clerks and "Cutting Costs."

In addition several talks will be made along the lines of co-operation.

ENGINEERS RECOMMEND COUNTY ROAD PROGRAM

Recommendation that the five year road building program outlined by the Allen-Co Good Roads council, be adopted by the county commissioners, were passed at a meeting of the Lima Chapter of the American Association of Engineers held Wednesday night.

Engineers point out that the roads of the county are in such condition as to necessitate immediate reconstruction.

The system of roads outlined by the council extends to all portions of the county. It covers the highways between the principal centers of population thoroly and the engineers believe that it should be adopted as the set program for the county.

SEEKS GUARDIANSHIP OF HER SOLDIER SON

Application has been filed in probate court by Mrs. E. F. Fitzgerald, 442 N. Metcalf-st., to be appointed guardian of her son, John L. Fitzgerald, 26, adjudged insane Tuesday as a result of wounds received in the world war.

Fitzgerald has an allowance from the government of $1,400. Application for the appointment will be acted upon by Probate Judge Hamilton September 19.

HUNTERS TAKE TO THE WOODS

Pursuit of Bushy Tails Begins—Gun Sales Decrease.

Opening of the squirrel season in Ohio Thursday was ushered in with the annual exodus of sportsmen from the city to the wooded districts, armed with shotguns or rifles, in search of the elusive bushy tail.

Gun dealers are unanimous in declaring that fewer hunters than last year bought ammunition and prepared to invade the county districts. Also ammunition is cheaper than last year, the number of men at present out of employment is preventing many from spending money for guns and ammunition, according to the dealers.

E. E. Evans, manager of the Evans & Thomas hardware store, said that the annual rush is in full swing, although fewer hunters took to the fields Thursday. Evans stated that their supply of guns for rent was exhausted Wednesday.

J. P. Agter, of the firm of Agter & Blackburn, stated that many men out of work have sold their guns and this has caused the gun business to fall off, as prospective purchasers are buying used firearms instead of new ones.

The price of new guns is practically unchanged from last fall, Agter said, but ammunition is some cheaper.

W. G. Branson, manager of the Jones-Branson store, said that not as much ammunition is being sold this year as last, but that scores of hunters took to the woods Thursday. Squirrels may be hunted from September 15 to October 20. Not more than five may be killed in one day, and their sale is prohibited.

CHARGES AGAINST STIPP FAIL; HE IS DISMISSED

Mrs. Flossie O'Dell, mother of Edith O'Dell, 13, who filed charges of attack against John C. Stipp, 50, 125 W. Elm-st, manager of the Lima Dort Automobile company, will be forced to pay court costs. Mrs. O'Dell lost her case in court.

Stipp, against whom the complaint was made, was discharged by Justice W. H. Guyton, following trial of the case late Tuesday.

At the time of the attack as mentioned in the complaint, the O'Dells resided in an adjoining apartment to the Stipp family on W. Elm-st. Stipp provided witnesses who testified as to his presence for three hours, before and after the hour designated in the warrant as the time of the alleged attack.

Justice Guyton declared there was no evidence upon which to bind Stipp over for grand jury investigation. Stipp protested his innocence from the first.

MAN IS HELD ON THEFT SUSPICION

ending investigation of theft of vegetables from the Lima State hospital farm, Carl Hibbold, 26, 216 N. Central-ave, is being held in city prison. Police say a report was received from the institution that a quantity of vegetables was stolen Thursday. According to Chief Roush the vegetables were located in a wagon owned by Hibbold.

BADLY BURNED IN NAPHTHA FIRE

Wm. Doorley Injured at Wapakoneta When Sher Burns.

WAPAKONETA—(Special).—William T. Doorley, junior member of the dry cleaning firm of Pfennig & Doorley and clerk of Duchouquet-ty, was painfully burned about the hands and left leg Wednesday, in a fire which attacked the firm's cleaning shed on E. Center-st.

The fire was of unknown origin. The shed and a Ford auto were destroyed. One hundred gallons of naphtha made the place an inferno. Doorley estimated the loss at $1,500.

Dr. Albert H. Weaver, formerly of Jude Park, Cincinnati, has assumed the pastorate of the Methodist Episcopal church here.

For five years manager of the Wapakoneta Natural Gas Co., Harry Loth resigned to devote his entire time to the insurance business.

Unwilling to accept the duties imposed upon him, by a recent law requiring the Probate Judge to arrange weekly religious services at the county jail, Judge R. E. Roessel passed the matter over to the ministerial association and the clergymen are making preparation to conduct services in the jail here every Sunday.

Ford Sedan of Ed Anderson stolen Monday night, was found abandoned in a wrecked condition south of Fryburg, Wednesday.

One hundred and fifty hunting licenses were issued by Duchouquet-ty Clerk W. T. Doorley for the squirrel season opening Thursday.

Married: Harry Gearing, 31, and Lena Baker, 28, both of Moulton-tp.

GUARDIAN SOUGHT FOR SOLDIER IN HOSPITAL

Application for appointment of a guardian for Edward Johnson, 32, returned world war soldier, now in the Toledo state hospital because of insanity, has been filed in probate court by his brother, Andrew Johnson 26 Crestor-pl. Hearing of the application has been set for September 20.

Johnson has a sum of money, a horse and wagon, valued at $300 and two lots in Belmont addition to Lima, valued at $200. Johnson resides with his mother, Mrs. Catherine Johnson, at 26 Chester-pl.

KEVILLE CHOSEN TO HEAD K. C. LODGE

John Keville, 408 Washington-st, was chosen as Grand Knight of Lima Council K. of C. to succeed George Shanahan, retiring knight. Election was held Wednesday night.

The remaining officers elected are: Deputy grand knight, Elmer O'Connor; financial secretary, P. J. O'Connor; recording secretary, T. J. Mulligan; chancellor, John Callahan; warden, John Mooring; guards Dan Snider, William Thionian; trustee, George Shanahan; advocate, J. H. O'Connor.

BETTER BUSINESS IS REPORTED

Phone Toll Lines Barometer, Representatives Here Say.

Business is picking up! That is the unanimous opinion Thursday of 50 representatives of telephone companies in Northwestern Ohio, who are meeting here to discuss general telephone business conditions.

The long distance telephone business is an unmistakable barometer of industrial and commercial conditions, they say. Judging from rapid picking up in their toll business, the representatives are firm in their prediction that a gradual increase is being made in all lines of business.

W. B. Borin, president of the Pequot Telephone Co., Tampa, Florida, and rated as one of the foremost telephone officials in the southeast, was present at the morning session, held at the Lim Telephone & Telegraph company's offices here.

At noon a luncheon was served at the Argonne hotel.

Other speakers were: A. Y. McClain, Toledo, district traffic superintendent; B. F. Calloway, Columbus, commercial superintendent; F. R. Eklund, Cleveland and L. A. Stegg, of Toledo.

LODGE NOTICES.

All officers and members of Lima Circle 210 F. H. C., are requested to be present Friday night at P. H. C. Hall, as there will be business of importance and initiation of candidates. Visiting members welcome.

Oil Explosion at Philadelphia Sought.

WORKMEN ARE KILLED

Badly Injured, Several Expected to Die.

PHILADELPHIA — (By Associated Press) — Investigation of the explosion and fire yesterday at the Breeze plant of the Atlantic City Company, which resulted in the death of ten workmen and the injury of a score of others, was ordered today by Director Cortelyou, of the department of public safety.

Several of the injured are in a condition and additional workmen are expected momentarily to be killed.

The second serious fire at the plant within a month. In the first five persons lost their lives and damage to property was estimated at $1,500,000.

A financial loss yesterday was estimated small.

Yesterday's fire is believed by officers of the company to have been caused by a loose connection in one of the pipes leading from a naphtha tank to a nearby vat.

A hot oil pouring from this tank was said, came in contact with the flames from the furnaces in the still and resulted in the explosion.

The fire was preceded by a terror explosion which killed several men instantly and drenched the plant with flaming oil. Promptly by the company's organized fire squads prevented the death toll mounting higher, witnesses reported.

EXPLOSION IN TUNNEL

An explosion occurred in the section of the yard where seven men are employed in the manufacture of naphtha. Many of these men are underground tunnels where the crude petroleum naphtha is maintained. Some of the men were trapped in these tunnels by rivers of liquid fire let upon them by the blast.

It is feared the three missing men caught in these tunnels and no one is entertained for them if such a case.

Physicians reported that several of the injured were probably fatally hurt. Close to a score were so hurt that they had to remain in hospitals while a few others were sent to their homes.

One of the Atlantic Refining Co. men, who was killed early tonight in the explosion, the second accident of the kind to occur in the plant. The first was on August 14, when five men were killed and property damaged to the extent of millions of dollars.

FATTY FAILURE AS SPENDER

Money causes his undoing, says Winona Wilcox, noted author.

By WINONA WILCOX

Author of "Confessions of a War Bride," "Confessions of a Bride," and "Letters to a Lover."

Money stands out as the means of Fatty Arbuckle's undoing. It got him into a felon's cell; it may get him out—that is still to be determined.

But no amount of money can wipe out the stigma that attaches to his name.

It is platitudeous to say that had Arbuckle continued to live on his former wage of $30 a week, he never would have been able to supply the essentials to a booze party with a murder finale.

As a money-maker, Arbuckle was a success.

As a spender, the event proves him a failure!

Like many another man, his capacity for amassing riches exceeded his ability to get rid of them. There he had no originality. His methods were as old as Babylon and Tyre.

TRAINING FOR SPENDING

Arbuckle was in a way trained for the movies; he was an actor before he became a film star.

Most persons go into training for earning, but whoever heard of anybody going into training for spending?

"When I get rich I will have—this or that!" Thus we all build castles in Spain and furnish them. "I will have! I will own! I will possess!"

Everybody plans in the same way. And then before they know it, as soon as the wealth is acquired, it possesses them. It determines what they do!

DEADLY PARALLEL

Now who would trust a man to run a high-powered auto until he had been taught how to do so? Who would face the perils of the open sea, alone in a yacht, without knowing how to steer?

Would any sane person undertake to control an airplane without instruction?

Of course not! But everybody feels perfectly competent to take possession of a huge fortune and to manage it at a moment's notice!

Wealth is the highest-powered invention of man.

A few of the abnormally prudent escape trouble when they handle a high-powered fortune. Many are like Arbuckle. They step on the gas at the first opportunity, hit it down and wreck themselves and run down others.

PHYSIOLOGICAL SPENDING

We are accustomed to refer to the miser as "money mad." That is a mistake. Money madness consists not so much in the getting and keeping as in the prodigal spending.

"What will he do with it?" we ask breathlessly when we hear that a friend has come into a nice inheritance or has achieved a startling business success. We should reverse our question and make it read: "What will his money do with him?"

Only when a tragedy of riotous spending shocks the country do those who envy the rich realize that sudden possession of wealth is to most men like a plunge into the current of Niagara.

HOW WOMEN AVOID SURGICAL OPERATIONS

Some Are Extremely Necessary, Others May Not Be

Every Woman Should Give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a Trial First

Chicago, Ill.—"I was in bed with a female trouble and inflammation and had four doctors but none of them did me any good. They all said I would have to have an operation. A druggist's wife told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took 22 bottles, never missing a dose and at the end of that time I was perfectly well. I have never had occasion to take it again as I have been so well. I have a six room flat and do all my work. My two sisters are taking the Compound upon my recommendation and you may publish my letter. It is the gospel truth and I will write to any one who wants a personal letter."—Mrs. E. H. HAYDOCK, 6824 St. Lawrence Ave., Chicago, Ill.

A Vermont woman adds her testimony to the long line of those fortunate women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after it had been decided an operation was necessary:

Burlington, Vt.—"I suffered with female trouble, and had a number of doctors who said that I would never be any better until I had an operation. I was so bad I could hardly walk across the floor and could not do a thing. My sister-in-law induced me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it certainly has helped me wonderfully. I keep house and do my work and have a small child. I have recommended the Compound to a number of my friends and you may publish my testimonial."—Mrs. H. E. SHARON, Apple Tree Point Farm, Burlington, Vt.

In hospitals are many women who are there for surgical operations, and there is nothing a woman dreads more than the thought of an operation, and the long weary months of recovery and restoration to strength if it is successful.

It is very true that female troubles may through neglect reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but most of the commoner ailments of women are not the surgical ones; they are not caused by serious displacements, tumors or growths, although the symptoms may appear the same. When disturbed by ailments first appear take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve the present distress and prevent more serious troubles. In fact, many letters have been received from women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after operations have been advised by attending physicians.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

Raisin Pie
Men are quickly refreshed at night by a dessert like this
2 cups Sun-Maid Seedless Raisins
1 cup water
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon corn starch
1 tablespoon sugar

Wash the raisins, put in saucepan with 1 cup cold water and bring slowly to a boil. Add sugar, salt and corn starch which has been mixed with 1 cup cold water. Boil 3 minutes; add lemon juice. Pour in pie tin which has been lined with crust, while hot cover; brush top with cold milk and bake in moderate oven until brown.

PAGE THE CENSOR! "ANATOL" ISN'T WICKED

NEW YORK. — (By N. E. A. Service.) — This is the story of how Cecil B. DeMille beat the censors to

That may not have been his main aim when he set about producing "The Affairs of Anatol." But he certainly has forestalled, disarmed and perhaps anticipated the dread censor. You would expect any censor, who with the slightest acquaintance with the classics, to sit up and take notice when he reads the announcement that "The Affairs of Anatol" is to be filmed. Can't you see him as he sits in his chair, with his hands clasped in preparation for the carnage?

But the "Anatol" that Schnitzler wrote is not the "Anatol" that DeMille made. The screen version keeps away from anything but the name of the original drama. Jeanie Macaron, who wrote it, and Cecil DeMille, who admits on the program that it was just "suggested" by Schnitzler's play, carefully carved the wickedness out of it.

Why, there aren't even any naked scenes in the picture. Every reference to the naughty "Anatol" is so cunningly concealed in the original "Anatol" was some-thing of a rake, a rather untamed son of Don Juan.

The DeMille "Anatol" is a young man who is in love with love, but whose affairs are not only not sordid but are concerned chiefly in trying to save women. And in the end he is reconciled with his life, and there's a nice moral held to view.

Besides out-censoring the censors by building a play with no more wickedness than a blooming boy, DeMille claims to have the most ravaging cast on record.

Even the movie fan who doesn't know the story of "Anatol" would surely race madly to the office clutching the price of admission on the prospect of seeing these Reid, Wanda Hawley, Bebe Daniels, Monte Blue, Elliott Dexter, Eugene Roberts, Polly Moran, Eugene Keosloff and Raymond Hall—all in one picture! Talk about all-casts!

"Anatol" is a married man. He is also Reid and "Anatol's" wife is also Swanson. Gloria's clothes, the kind of clothes your wife wants about.

Wallace has three "affairs." One with a cabaret girl—Wanda Hawley. Then his wife takes him to the city to get him out of her clutches and he has an "affair" with country girl—Agnes Ayres—who simply steals his wallet and a kiss. In he comes back and encounters midnight show girl—Bebe Daniels with the purplish name, "Satan." Just as she is coaxing a 900 check out of him he discovers wicked Siren is married and his money solely to pay her husband's hospital bills.

Isn't any use. Wallace tries to be a devil but his lady friends seem to be fighting for his pocketbook more than his heart. So, in right indignation, he lets off steam on one of these disillusionments, smashing the furniture in a woman's apartment—a burst of temper and a destruction of property that the management boasts cost $20,000.

URELY the cast of players in "The Oath" is above reproach. Including as it does Conway, Anna Nilsson and Miriam Cooper. The story is from the novel "The Oath" by Wm. J. Locke.

As to the picture itself, its too many of the more emotional scenes are dragged out, but the action there is takes a long time in getting there. However, work of the principle in the picture is as you wish. Minna is daughter of old Israel Hart, a bath money, is kept pretty to herself so that she will not fall in love with anyone of her faith. There's the wealthy Simon, who wants desperate a marry her. But Minna turns old eyes upon him, for is she not love with Hugh Colman? Hugh is impoverished lawyer and a Gen-showing full well that father dear never consent to such a union, ma and Hugh are secretly mar-ried. The thorn in the plot is fur-nish by Anna Q. Nilsson, who, as Jealousy, is a one-time flame the gallant Hugh. She's married, however, and she continues to be quite too friendly terms with the Jealousy, and she charges husband with being in love with her. It is at this point that the plot is taken, never to divulge the marriage, and they part.

Old Israel Hart is murdered. Hugh is last seen with him. Minna, led by the oath, is forced to keep at Hugh is on trial and because cannot account for his action on night of murder, he is certain to be convicted. Then Irene saving the day for Hugh, turns her husband against her.

Here we have four people, unhap-py, unwanted, drinking the very depths of abject misery, and what time they have getting straightened out. In the end, of course, Hugh find Minna just in time to keep her self from throwing herself on the rocks, and Irene finds that her hus-band still loves her and understands the motive of her lie. Finis.

There's a lot to the plot, anyway you look at it, and Mr. Tearle, the lurer, is at his very best. He's al-ways a gentleman, whatever happens, and he's SO tender and attentive to the ladies! Miss Nilsson does good work and Miss Cooper, in the leading role, gives flashes of naturalness, but her work as a whole is of the fever-ish, agonized type, she perhaps any-one else in that role would have done the same thing. Some role, that of Minna.

"The Oath" will be featured at the Regent theatre today and until Sun-day.

MOVIE SECRETS ARE REVEALED

Q.—What is an "odd shot?"
 A.—An "odd shot," is a view photographed from an "odd," or out of the ordinary angle. Such a shot is a view of the side of a tall build-ing, or a view from a window of people looking up from the street be-low.

Q.—How long has Norma Tal-madge been married and who is her husband?
 A.—Norma was married in No-vember 1916 to Joseph Schenk, the movie producer.

Q.—What is the approximate length of a feature film?
 A.—A feature film averages about 5500 feet.

Q.—What is the National Board of Review?
 A.—The National Board of Re-view is an unpaid body of thirty-five members chosen from various professions and businesses to censor all films before they are publicly exhibited. It was formed in New York in 1909 at the request of pic-ture exhibitors to offset a campaign against movie theatres in New York.

Why do Movie Stars sometimes, in the movies, wear wigs of the same color as their own hair?
 The answer will be found in this department tomorrow.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends daily use of Magnesia to Overcome Unpleasant Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach accom-ppanied by flat, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydro-chloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid-indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lin-ing of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by various stom-ach ulcers, food fermentations and sour-ing, creating the distressing gas which dis-tends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often attacking the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary "digestive" aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any drug store a few ounces of the purified Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eat-ing. This will drive the gas and wind and bloated right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Purified Mag-nesia is a powder or white granu-lar liquid or jelly in bottles, never stomach, indigestion, flatulence, and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Adv.

SHORT SHAVINGS

Arthur, age nine, returned from his first visit to the John Herron Art Institute with such a depressed air that his mother was puzzled.

"Didn't you like it, dear?"

"Not much. Mostly there, were people with their heads cut off."

"But there must have been some pictures of animals and trees and lovely country."

"Oh, a few, but," in disgust, "There were more of people doing things they shouldn't."

"Things they shouldn't?"

"Yes, some of them had taken off all of their clothes, even their union suits."

"There are two kinds of men in this world," thundered the orator. "There are just two kinds, the rich and the poor!"

"You're wrong," shouted a barber. "There are two kinds: those who shave themselves and those who get shaved!"

"You're wrong, too," said the manicurist. "There are two kinds: easy marks and tightwads."

"You are all wrong," said the egotist. "There are two kinds: myself and others."

Which merely goes to show that anything can be proved from the point of view.

"Seems to me you ought to be out looking after your best girl on Sunday afternoon." The visitor addressed the young man.

The young man in question looked at his watch. "Plenty of time yet," he answered. "It's only two o'clock now. I never go to see 'em until about seven."

"Pretty late, it seems to me," remarked the visitor.

"Well, you see, it used to be when you went to see a girl and take her riding Sunday afternoon, she used to say: 'Well, you come on up to our house to eat.' Now when supper time rolls around they say, 'well, where are you going to take me to eat today?'"

Congressman John L. Cable says there are three kinds of men in public life in the world. The man who gets into print, with nice things said about him, the one who gets cussed and the one who never gets into print. "I'd rather be cussed than not get into print," Cable so eloquently.

City Auditor David L. Rupert cherished a much battered soft hat. "I wore it when I was elected," he says. "I'm saving it to wear if I ever run for office again—just for luck."

Pat Carmody, Columbus music salesman, says his daily prayer is that, if it is fate, that he is to be stricken blind, that it shall not come to pass while skirts of women remain at their present or higher altitude.

Hydrosal Stops All
Itching and Stinging

Poison ivy, insect bites, prickly heat, sunburn, baby-rash, sore, tired, sweaty feet quickly relieved.

Whether stung by insect, bite of spider or bug, or poisoned by poison ivy, Hydrosal quickly kills the poison and stops the pain and distress. It is wonderful how quickly it reduces the swelling, relieves the pain, and stops the itching.

For sunburn Hydrosal has no equal—one application takes out the fire and seldom does the burn peel if Hydrosal is applied promptly.

For baby-rash Hydrosal is a boon to mother and babe. One application brings relief and makes calm, restful sleep possible. No mother will be without it once she has used it for her baby.

For tired, aching feet Hydrosal gives instant relief from the pain and burning.

Sold by all druggists, 25c, 50c and 75c.
